JAMAICA PLAIN FRIENDLY SOCIETY

1904 - 1905

The society has had one hundred and fourteen applicants during the year 1904-1905. A few of these have been found to be out of our district, or for other reasons have not required special care, but the larger part of the number have been under the supervision of visitors.

Forty-six women have taken sewing from our room, and other employment has been found for a good number.

In looking over the year's record we find that about one-third of the women on our list are widows, many with large families of children, and that in about one-fifth of the families sickness has been the immediate cause of the poverty and need. These are the cases which always appeal especially to our care and sympathy.

We are never free from the sad cases where poverty comes from intemperance, but we are glad to say that in the past year there have been fewer than usual of these difficult problems.

Of the cases in our care no two are alike. In each family different circumstances and different problems are presented to the visitor, but out of the many we give a few brief typical stories from the last year's record.

A respectable English widow was sent to us early last winter. There were six children, the eldest a boy of twenty-one, very delicate and unable to work, three young people at work for low wages, and a younger boy also delicate. This woman could not leave her home for work, and our sewing during the winter was a great help to her small income. The invalid son was sent to a hospital for a time, and while it was necessary, milk and eggs were sent by the visitor to him and the little brother. In the summer tickets for car rides and steamer excursions were provided through the Young Men's Christian Union.

A young woman in consumption was helped with nourishing food at home by the visitor, her husband being temporarily out of work ; then she was placed in the Channing Home where she was made very comfortable while she lived.

Another woman with tuberculosis who could not leave her family to go to a hospital was helped by her visitor to go to the Day Sanitorium on Parker Hill. There she was able to go each day, taking her two little boys, both delicate, with her, and they have all had the benefit of the good food and life in the fresh air.

For an elderly colored widow, a pension had been obtained from the Home for Aged Colored Women, very small, but sufficient to enable her to keep her little home, and relieve her from great distress of mind.

Three other widows, all in delicate health, have obtained, through the efforts of their visitors, the benefit of funds administered by the City Overseers. It is impossible to estimate the comfort which is given to deserving women by these funds. Milk and eggs and other nourishment have been supplied to a number of sick and invalid persons.

Food and fuel orders have been given to many families to tide over times of special need.

In several cases it has been necessary to place children in temporary homes, and our visitors have also been in frequent touch with different hospitals and convalescent homes. Reports of our cases go each month to the Associated Charities and we also receive constantly from them reports of all the aid given to families on our list. All of this co-operation is most important and valuable.

The Case Committee holds weekly meetings for the consideration of cases in their care and of all new applications. Once a month a meeting of visitors, for reports, is held in connection with the Directors' Meeting.

It will be seen by the Treasurer's report that our largest expenditure is made to the sewing women. This seems also to our Committee the most satisfactory expenditure, as many families are helped in this way without the sense of receiving charity. Most of the articles made are provided by different hospitals and institutions, so that the Society has comparatively small expense for material. But one salary is paid by the Society, and this, the agent's, is a very important one, as one person's time is needed, during the hours when our room is open, to receive applicants, to report these applicants to visitors, and to keep records, besides the care and supervision of the sewing, a great responsibility in itself.

The number of active visitors has been small in the past year, and their work has been often very arduous. May we not hope that the number of willing helpers may be increased in this new year so that no one may be over-worked ?

Again we thank our friends for their contributions to our Treasurer, and we trust that they may continue their kind help when our annual call is made again this autumn.

Besides money we need clothing, especially clothing for children of all ages. It is pitiable to see how impossible it is for many of our poor women to provide for this great need, especially in the winter season, so that their children may be decent and comfortable for school. We shall be most grateful to our friends who will kindly send second-hand clothing and boots and shoes of any size to our room. Such gifts will carry joy and comfort to many sad households.

Our room is open from 10 to 1 on week days, except Saturdays and holidays, from October 1st to May 1st. A list of women needing work of various kinds, among them competent seamstresses, also a list of men out of work, will be found on our agent's books. A supply of well made plain underclothing, also children's dresses and aprons, are kept for sale at the Hall.

ELLEN C. MORSE,
For Case Committee.
